Committees for Neoteric Summit Dubai

UN SECURITY COUNCIL (UNSC)

The United Nations Charter established six principal organs, one of which is the Security Council. The UNSC holds the primary responsibility for maintaining international peace and security, convening whenever peace is at risk. In the event of a dispute escalating to hostilities, the Council's foremost objective is to achieve a swift resolution. To this end, the UNSC may issue ceasefire directives, impose economic sanctions, arms embargoes, financial penalties, and travel restrictions, all aimed at preventing further escalation of the conflict.

UNHRC (UNITED NATIONS HUMAN RIGHTS COUNCIL)

The United Nations Human Rights Council (UNHRC) is a key UN body dedicated to promoting and protecting human rights globally. It investigates allegations of human rights violations in UN member states and addresses thematic issues such as freedom of association, freedom of expression, freedom of belief and religion, as well as the rights of women, LGBTQ+ individuals, and racial and ethnic minorities.

UNDP (UNITED NATIONS DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME)

The mandate of the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) is to eradicate poverty, strengthen democratic governance, uphold the rule of law, and foster inclusive institutions. UNDP advocates for transformative change and connects countries to knowledge, experience, and resources to help people improve their quality of life. It promotes technical and investment cooperation among nations, driving development and progress across the globe.

SOCHUM

SOCHUM (SOCIAL, HUMANITARIAN, AND CULTURAL COMMITTEE)

The United Nations General Assembly Third Committee, also known as SOCHUM (Social, Humanitarian, and Cultural Committee), is one of the six main committees of the General Assembly. Its focus is on human rights, humanitarian affairs, and social issues, playing a critical role in shaping global policies on these matters.

WHO (WORLD HEALTH ORGANIZATION)

The World Health Organization (WHO) is a specialized UN agency responsible for overseeing international public health. The WHO Constitution, which outlines the agency's governing principles, sets its primary goal as "the attainment by all peoples of the highest possible level of health." WHO has been instrumental in numerous global health achievements, including the eradication of smallpox, the near-eradication of polio, and the development of an Ebola vaccine.

UNFCCC (UNITED NATIONS FRAMEWORK CONVENTION ON CLIMATE CHANGE)

Offers a unique and dynamic experience, distinguished by their complexity and strategic challenge, comparable to that of the United Nations Security Council. JCC typically involves factions with opposing positions on a crisis, with each side either working to dominate the other or striving to find common ground for resolution. JCC is a merger of all the committees.

JCC (JOINT CRISIS COMMITTEES)

The United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC) is an international environmental treaty aimed at combating "dangerous human interference with the climate system," primarily by stabilizing greenhouse gas concentrations in the atmosphere. The treaty was signed by 154 countries at the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development (UNCED), commonly known as the Earth Summit, held in Rio de Janeiro from June 3 to 14, 1992.
